

Stop the WTO – get on the train!

The World Trade Organisation is coming to Sydney on November 14-15. The WTO backs global privatisation and a massive increase in the power of the giant corporations.

What we do to oppose the WTO's agenda makes a difference. Former WTO boss Michael Moore has admitted that the anti-WTO protests in Seattle in 1999 worked: "It was an enormous disappointment because we lost a couple of years."

Let's help derail their plans again. Get on the train to Sydney!

The no2wto network meets Mondays at RMIT, Swanston St, at 7pm. ALL WELCOME. no2wto-network@nomasters.org

The train to Sydney costs $110 return. This price applies only to tickets booked and paid for by October 25. There are likely to be rallies and meetings in Sydney on Wednesday, November 13. To give you a choice of when to travel, the no2wto network is booking seats on the evening train on Tuesday, November 12, the morning train on Wednesday, November 13, and the evening train that same day. We shall return on the evening train on Friday, November 15, unless you indicate otherwise.
